An unmistakeable early spring sight on woodland walks, wood anemones are an indicator of ancient woodland and long-standing Devon hedges.

A spring delight, the wood anemone grows in dappled shade in ancient woodlands. Traditional management, such as coppicing, can help such flowers by opening up the woodland floor to sunlight.

An easily recognisable flower, the wood anemone is a low-growing plant, with six to seven large, white or purple-streaked 'petals' (which are actually its sepals), surrounding a cluster of distinctive yellow anthers. Its leaves are deeply lobed and it has a thin, red stem.

The wood anemone is named after the Greek wind god, Anemos, who sent his namesakes, the anemones, in early spring to herald his coming. This legend gives the flower its other common name of 'Windflower'.

Devon Biodiversity Records Centre are asking people to record sightings of this star-shaped white flower to provide crucial data for DBRC's Ancient Woodland Inventory work.

By recording brief details of your wood anemone sightings between now and May, you can help conservation of Devon woodlands and hedges.

Thanks to Peter Hall for the photographs

Have you been down to the woods lately?
The blue bells were superb, and Court
Woodland
now has a new notice board

The bluebell has many names: English bluebell, wild hyacinth, wood bell, bell bottle, Cuckoo's Boots, Wood Hyacinth, Lady's Nightcap and Witches' Thimbles, Hyacinthoides non-scripta.

It is against the law to intentionally pick, uproot or destroy bluebells

Bluebells can take years to recover after footfall damage. If a bluebell's leaves are crushed, they die back from lack of food as the leaves cannot photosynthesise.

If you plant bluebells, you should make sure it's the English bluebell, not the Spanish version. This is a more vigorous plant and could out-compete our delicate native flower Bluebell colonies take a long time to establish - around 5-7 years from seed to flower.

Almost half the world's bluebells are found in the UK, they're relatively rare in the rest of the world

How lucky are we! – There are small groups of Wild Orchids in and around our villages. Usually found in flower-rich meadows, this pink-purple orchid is scarce in the south-west.

Please be reminded not to pick wildflowers when on a daily walk to avoid facing fines
Picking protected species could result in imprisonment or a fine of up to £5,000.

The silly season is upon us once again. With an influx of visitors parking is once again a problem.

The most dangerous places to park in Newton Ferrers are on corners. The two most common ones are at the top of Newton Hill, outside the co-op (there is a sign there saying NO Parking at any time, but it is hidden by a green cabinet) & the other is by the church adjacent to 3 & 5 Yealm Road, which is busy when there are weddings and funerals in particular. These two places necessitate out-bound vehicles to be on the wrong side of the road on a blind bend.

Noss Mayo is much the same; Parking close to the hairpin bend leading down to the tidal parking; & parking both sides of the little road outside Noss village hall, adjacent to the Tilly Institute. These would create enormous difficulties for emergency vehicles

Please park considerately, and as tightly as you are able. Let your passengers get out and park with the driver's door opening onto the road, thereby taking up less space.

I am sure there are many more instances, and places of concern. Please email us and tell us where dangerous parking takes place and we will pass it onto the RYDA team who are, together with the Parish Council, looking into parking and other traffic problems.

From the Parish Council, Roads and Highways Committee that consists of Parish Councillors and representative's from the RYDA and Newton & Noss Village Hall

20mph Speed Limits : The roads within Newton and Noss are typical narrow South Hams roads without pavements or verges and in particular the main roads (Parsonage Road, Court Road, Bridgend Hill, Stoke Road and Revelstoke Road) have frequent pedestrians as there are no alternative footpaths. Cars, vans and even cyclists frequently drive along these roads at or over 30 mph passing adults, school children and dogs at very close range. It is a case of 'not if, but when' an accident will happen and at 30 mph or more, then a pedestrian versus vehicle accident will be serious compared with an accident at 20 mph.

Devon CC have finally agreed that Towns and Villages within Devon can apply for 20 mph zones and we have requested a zone starting in Newton on Parsonage Road just before Peters Field / De Ferrers Drive extending across Newton & Noss to include Bridgend and including the existing 20 mph zone in Noss. An additional 20 mph zone in Membland has also been requested.

Recognising that it may take a while before Devon CC implements this, the Parish Council are :

1. Asking Devon CC to replace the 20 mph Sign and Road marking outside the Cruach on Stoke Road (as you come into the village from Stoke). For info - the sign was knocked down and not replaced 2 years ago and the Road marking was covered when Stoke road was resurfaced last Autumn.
2. Erecting 20 mph signs similar to those in Ermington and Modbury - these could be a "20 mph repeater" or a "20's Plenty " sign.
 - a) Asking Residents on Stoke Road and Revelstoke Road if they would contribute to and have outside their house a sign.
 - b) Reviewing the overall cost to erecting "20's plenty" signs elsewhere in Newton and Noss.

Car Parking : The pressures on our community from the number of cars, both residents and visitors, leads us back onto the subject of parking and where could additional parking areas be created.

The Roads and Highways Committee is looking at options and would welcome any suggestions where a parking area could be created. Ideally this should be on the approach to Newton Ferrers so as to minimise bringing traffic into the Villages.

It's coming into honey bee swarm season again. This is when the queen and half the bees leave their parent colony in search of a new home. If you see a swarm please don't panic, they will be loud, there will be lots of bees, but they will also be very docile. If you're fortunate enough to have one land on your allotment, in your garden or see them on the side of the road. Please don't spray them with water or pesticide, just call Jay Geraty, and he will collect them and safely relocate them to a new home. 07544162229

The RYDA would like to publicly thank Andrew Beveridge who has organised our harbour clean up for the last 5 years.

Ukraine related activity in Newton and Noss

There has been much in the national press about hosting displaced Ukrainians in the UK but you may be wondering what is happening locally.

It is pleasing to report that, so far, nine local households have registered with the national hosting programme and some of these households have also registered with the Exeter Diocese initiative or with NGO programmes. As the press articles make clear, the Central Government programme is slow and bureaucratic, however we have learned that patience and direct intervention reaps rewards and the first Ukrainian family will arrive around 11th May. Through a village contact we are also in touch with a Ukrainian lady living in UK who is providing potential connections with families in need. The lady visited the village a few weeks ago and was able to meet all of the potential hosts.

It is important that the host households are provided with broader support from those in the community that cannot provide accommodation but nevertheless wish to assist. So far sixteen families have offered support and I aim to link requests from hosts or their guests with these additional supporters. Requests might be for transport needs, employment, general advice and so on. The coordination will be via WhatsApp and email. Some of the people that have volunteered to help have yet to provide me with a mobile phone number which is needed for WhatsApp, and they are requested to contact me again with their mobile number. Anybody else who would like to join the list is invited to email peterbhinchliffe@gmail.com with contact details.

Readers may be interested to learn that a charity that Sue and I run, Migrant Offshore Aid Station (MOAS) UK, is currently funding a fleet of ambulances with embarked medical teams inside Ukraine. We anticipate increasing the fleet from the current seven vehicles to 20 in the coming weeks. The teams are being used to provide first aid and first aid training and for the evacuation of chronically sick children across the border out of Ukraine. Please email (as above) if you would like to know more or to contribute.

PLANNING

There are no significant new applications, however, the Collaton development is due to be discussed by SHDC Development Committee on 25 May

Following a letter sent to many villagers regarding the development, Yealm Medical Centre have posted on Face book the following statement: The practice has been made aware of a recently circulated letter regarding the proposed Collaton development and a statement within the letter saying that the Medical Centre has confirmed that it has plenty of capacity. We would like to make it clear that the practice was not approached by any of the authors of this letter and the statement in the letter is incorrect. The GPs would like to make it clear that whilst we would of course accept all new patients from this proposed development the practice is already working at full capacity to provide high-quality primary healthcare to 6,500 patients. There is a national shortage of GPs and therefore additional patients registered at the practice would inevitably stretch our ability to provide the high standard of care that we strive to achieve.

The statement referred to was made by Torbay and South Devon NHS Foundation Trust, an example of “management” not knowing what happens on the shop floor.

May 19 Understanding invasive species - deer and crayfish (Wild About Devon)

We have had working parties from group members in the past over the invasive Pacific Oyster in the marine estuary, and in pulling Himalayan Balsam from the freshwater river.

At our last excellent talk, sadly poorly attended, on the Plymouth and South Devon Community Forest, we had discussion on how to keep newly planted trees protected from invasive species - deer grazing and grey squirrels taking out the leading shoots of 8 year old oak trees.

But there are problems from many other species that have either been introduced intentionally or due to northward migration due to climate change. Do we try to combat this to protect our native species, or do we just accept a change in our flora and fauna?

This free on-line talk from the Devon Local Nature Partnership focuses on deer and freshwater signal crayfish. You need tickets to be sent the webinar link.

It is important to remember that we welcome all members of the community to all groups. Indeed we would love YOU to join us! Any age, any ability and of course you could look at it as your way of supporting us too.

The walking group would love a few more people. The walks set off from the carpark at the end of Barton Close in Wembury at 10.30 each Wednesday at a gentle pace. The walk is short (about 45 minutes) and is supported by trained walk leaders. The emphasis is on getting out in the fresh air, meeting with others, having a good old chat and of course keeping active. It is a fun and friendly bunch.

The Reading Group are also keen to welcome new folk. This wonderful group takes place in The Parish Room, Bakery Square, Yealmpton at 10.30am each Thursday. The group is led by readers who read out loud sections of a chosen book and a selection of poems that link to it. Printed out text is provided and we all follow along. A group full of friendship, we chat, laugh, reminisce and sometimes even sing about the content over coffee and biscuits. Why not come and give it a try, it truly is fabulous. You can also access this group via Zoom simultaneously. Just let me know if you'd like the link and the readings will be sent to you via email, ahead of the group.

The Art and Craft group meet on the 1st and third Monday of the month at Yealmpton Community Centre in Stray Park. You don't have to be a whizz at anything at all. Just come along and join us. Art and craft materials are provided or you can bring along something you're working on. Once again, the emphasis is on coming together as a group with a common interest, chatting, having fun and perhaps creating a little something along the way. You can be sure of a warm welcome.

Keeping active is important for us all and our Gentle Exercise Group is a fantastic way to do that. We meet weekly at Yealmpton Methodist Hall. The group is led by trained physiotherapists who keep the sessions achievable and fun. Once again it's a great opportunity to meet up with others and to keep your body active and moving.

What would activities be without singing? We meet monthly in Yealmpton Methodist church for a grand old sing song of familiar songs. We are accompanied by Jenny who leads us in song and Brenda on the keyboard. We are also blessed with some good strong voices from the Villageaires. Its uplifting and fills us with joy. Do come along with a friend or two. There is coffee and biscuits to follow and a chance to chat and make friends.

Yealm Rouleurs Spring and Summer rides

Local road cycling club, Yealm Rouleurs, ride every Saturday in the South Hams, as well as organising monthly expeditions.

On 9th April the club went on their annual ride to remember their founder, Ken Middlemiss, who sadly died in 2018. Ken was a keen sportsman and local cycling figure - well known to many. He was an outstanding athlete who could boast a Marmotte Gold, and the Paris-Brest-Paris amongst his many achievements. This year we rode to his favourite café – Fox Tor, Princetown, a 60 mile ride across Dartmoor in glorious Springtime sun.

Other rides planned for 2022 include:

- 21st May - East Devon ride
- 19th June - Dartmoor classic sportive
- 16th July - Train to Penzance and cycle back
- 13th Aug - Circumnavigation Dartmoor
- 24th Sept - Cornwall ride

Pete Stevens, Chair of the Yealm Rouleurs, said "It's great to be part of a club and carry on Ken's memory. We get to ride around such beautiful countryside and find the best routes and cafés to stop at".

Routes and information

We keep our Facebook page updated fb.me/yealmrouleurs. New riders who can cycle for 30-40 miles at 13-14 mph can try out on a Saturday ride and are asked to contact us in advance via Facebook.
